CARLETON UNIVERSITY

Carleton in its first year—1946

DEDICATION

WE RESPECTFULLY

DEDICATE THIS YEARBOOK

TO

THE OLD BUILDING

WHICH WE KNEW

SO WELL

The Cornerstone Is Laid

Soon New Doors Will Open!

from the President

Like you, the graduating class of 1958, I shall not have the chance to work on the new campus. We are both leaving Carleton, just as we are about to move into our new home. Our memories of Carleton will cluster about this old red brick building, destined to fall into other hands and to be used for another purpose.

In some respects, it has been a homely, even tawdry building, certainly a far cry from the colour and spaciousness of the new buildings on the Rideau River Campus. But for all of us it has meant Carleton. It has been a sort of whirling microcosm of a university's life — the scene of lectures, of plays, of pep rallies, of dances, of debates, of concerts, of all the myriad activities that go into a university and make it something more than a mere place of indoctrination. And this small building has created, too, a feeling of intimacy and community that will be difficult to recapture. I sometimes think that there is no building in the whole of Canada that has been used more fully and more splendidly.

But it would be foolish for us to live forever in pioneer days, no matter how glorious they may have been. All of us will welcome the new campus and will experience a keen, vicarious pleasure when those who come after enter the first classes next September, leaving behind the cramped little campus in the Glebe for the broad acres and the light and spacious halls that look down on river and canal.

IN MEMORIAM

Following the death of Professor Lorne Richardson on March 10, 1958, Dr. James A. Gibson said the following in tribute to his memory of his close friend and colleague.

"He was the oldest of our University colleagues, and his teaching experience reached back nearly half a century. He was the first of all our academic community to wear the title "emeritus"—an honor which in the university tradition is justly and fitly earned.

Through all our College association, which goes back to the moment when Carleton first opened its doors to full-time students, there has been a sense of comradeship which for all of us will remain a most precious memory. The quality of friendship which was in him sprang from deep wells — wells of integrity and honesty, of rugged common sense, and with the saving grace of good humor.

Apart from the personal excellence of an unassuming and kindly man, there was the shining virtue of valuing learning for its own sake. Excellence in his own field was not a narrow end in itself; it was the means to a much larger end; and in his long experience there can have been no compromise with thoroughness, whether in academic circles or in some one of the international welfare agencies in which he was greatly interested.

How apt, in this quiet moment of remembrance, are the lines from George Santayana:

*O World, thou choosest not the better part!
It is not wisdom to be only wise
And on the inward vision close the eyes,
But it is wisdom to believe the heart.*

*Our knowledge is a torch of smoky pine,
That lights the pathway but one step ahead
Across a void of mystery and dread.
Bid then the tender light of faith to shine
By which alone the mortal heart is led Unto the thinking of the thought divine.*

HONOURS

IRVINE, JOHN BRIAN

Brian, an honours history student, is past president of the Debating Union, and has taken part in the Model Parliament for the last two years. His future plans include a year at the Ontario College of Education, some high school teaching, and eventually post-graduate studies.

KENDALL, PATRICIA

Pat, a loyal native of Winnipeg, is an honours student in English. Coming to Carleton via Nepean she has been one of the great supporters of the Literary Society and this year is the editor of the Halcyon.

MARSHALL, BRIAN

This honours student in public administration practices on the United Nations club as vice-president. He spent an interesting summer teaching a railroad gang in Northern Manitoba, in conjunction with the Frontier College. Immediate future will be "somewhere in the Civil Service"—and then on to post-grad work.

SLASOR, ELIZABETH

After two years at Toronto Varsity, Elizabeth returned to her home town to complete her honours History course at Carleton. An accomplished musician, she finds time apart from her studies to give lessons in the theory of music. Elizabeth plans to make a career in the legal profession.

ARTS

PASS

ANNAU, ZOLTON

Zolton, a graduate of St. Pat's, came to Carleton to try his hand at Psychology. Not only has he made it his major but this past year has served as General Manager of the Psychology Department's apparatus. He likes chess and enjoys all types of reading—except tea-cups. Zolton expects to continue with post-graduate work.

BIRKHANS, ILZE

Latvia lost Ilze to Ottawa nine years ago. An English major, she attended Carleton at night for three years while working in the Credit Bureau. The past year was her first as a full-time student. She says "I may go in for a Librarian's degree in a few years."

BORKOVITCH, BLANCHE

Blanche, formerly a night student, decided to join Carleton ranks full-time to obtain her degree in Sociology. She has been an active member of the Carletones and the Literary Society. In her spare time she is a keen "culture fan" collecting records and often attending ballet and drama performances.

BOYER, WILLIAM

He left Metropolitan Toronto to come to Carleton and see the country at the same time. Bill is hesitant about the future and may go on for post-graduate work. Child Psychology is one of the main fields of interest of this graduate and a bright future in that field is foreseen for him.

BRIGGS, HELENE

Helene has shown her versatility as a member of the Sock and Buskin Club, the Badminton Club, W.U.S.C. Although her immediate plans are not definite, Helene, as a French major, would like to explore Europe someday.

COSTELLO, WILLIAM

A Sociology major, Bill is contemplating Insurance Adjusting in San Francisco or possibly law school. His most famous comment: "Things go badly for a while, then they get worse." His pet peeve is "Middle Class Morality."

CRUMBACK, GLORIA

Gloria is going to be a June bride—D' ye ken? Says she's "one-half a member of the Geology Club." (Who's the other half). Gloria is well-known in Ottawa music circles, and is now teaching young piano enthusiasts. When she and Ken are in Toronto next year, she hopes to enter Teacher's College there. She's a history major.

FAGAN, JOAN

Joan has been Social Convenor for both the Hleodor Society and the Canterbury Club. She hopes to put her major, French, to good use by entering the Department of External Affairs after graduation.

ARTS

FIELD, ROBERT

Bob, although kept busy as Student Relations Chairman on the Student Council and Crimson Key Society, manages to find time to attend lectures. A Political Science major, Bob's future plans are indefinite, but they include a trip to Europe by way of Yokohama!

FISHER, LAWRENCE

A Fisher from Fisher Park High, Lawrence is taking a combined major in History and Political Science. A member of the U.N.T.D. at Carleton, his main extra-curricular activities are, therefore, connected with H.M.C.S. Carleton.

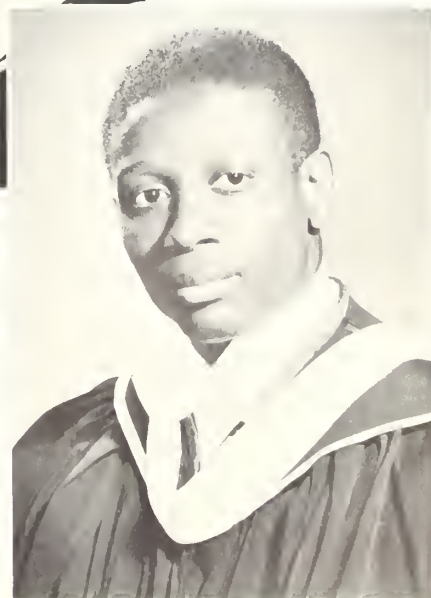

HAWN, DEXTER

An active member of the French Club, Dexter is (natch!) majoring in French, and has spent four years in Carleton's Evening Division. His spare time is spent in art work, "from photography to drawing comic strips." He may teach, or take a library science course, but right now he is with the Department of National Health and Welfare.

HENRIES, GEORGE

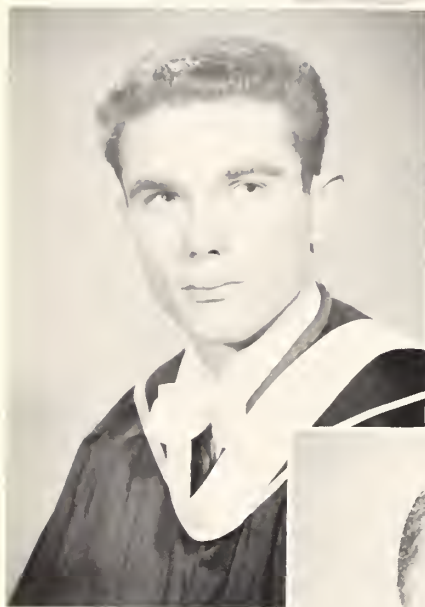

Our friend from Monrovia Liberia has enlivened many a political discussion with his humour and knowledge. His many activities have included W.U.S.C., Carletones, the United Nations Club, and the Crimson Key Society. George plans to attend law school in the United States next year.

JOHNSON, ISABEL M.

A native of Saskatoon, Isabel is one of the many white-collar workers that haunt Carleton at night. She belongs to a non-academic sorority (there ain't no such animal on campus!)—Beta Sigma Phi. An employee of the Department of Health and Welfare, Isabel is an English major.

KASSIRER, DAVID

Dave, an Economics major, is kept busy as Treasurer of the Arts Undergrad Society and President of the Hilleo Foundation of Ottawa. His hobbies are collecting records, cameras, and most things with "depth, sound and interest."

KENNEDY, WILLIAM

"After a brilliant career in Journalism," says this editor of 'Rantin' and Ravin', I'm back at school majoring in Sociology." Bill drives a mean basketball—when he isn't driving a mean Volkswagen. Pete Carver is going to join him in the fall in painting Europe red.

LAWN, ROBERT J.

Bob comes from the Seaway town of Cornwall, and is taking a maior in History. An athletic type, Bob has played in the inter-faculty hockey league for the last two years. He is enthusiastic about "unprogressive jazz." Future plans may include post-graduate work.

ARTS

LEIKEN, JOSEPHINE

A Sociology major, Jo has been one of the busiest young ladies on the campus. As well as being President of Carleton's Students' Council in her final year, she has shown her versatility as an extremely fine lyricist, editor, and poetess. Especially interested in foreign affairs, Jo made a grand tour of Europe last summer.

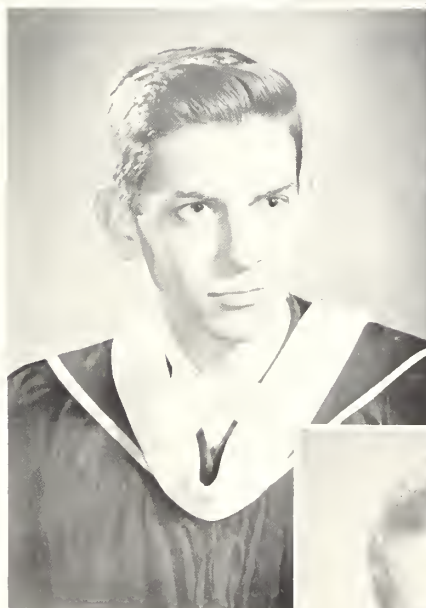

LOGAN, GEORGE L.

George, one of our married students, is a graduate in Arts of R.M.C. and is spending his final year at Carleton majoring in Political Science. He intends to join the rank and file of the Canadian Army after graduation.

MIX, PETER

Pete comes to us from Glebe and provided the philosophical side of the psychology department. More of a listener than a talker, Pete is a great classical music fan and his favourite hobby is the study of nature.

MONAGHAN, EDWARD L.

Ed, a French major, has worked in the government for the past five years. Although a member of W.U.S.C. and the French Club he shows a particular facility for swimming and skiing. He may enter the field of teaching or possibly External Affairs.

NUTH, R. JOSEPH

To sharpen his well-known wit, Joe used to fence with Prof. Mealing. This History major was a day student for two years, and completed his course at night. Joe is a member of the Naval Reserve (every nice girl loves a sailor!). At present he is in Mechanical Engineering at NRC.

PAWLIW, ANN

This raven-haired goddess with the enigmatic smile quietly has all the male political scientists in a tizzy. No doubt she will cause the same reaction at Osgoode Hall. Ann alternates between Ottawa and Montreal, and while at Carleton manages to keep busy with the French Club.

RAUF, ALIA

Alia has travelled a long way to come to Carleton—from Allahabad, India, by way of Tokyo, Japan. Taking a combined English and History course, she is active in the U.N. Club, and is the current vice-chairman of W.U.S.C.

SCHLIESKE, MARY

Mary, originally from England, is a Public School Teacher now in Ottawa. A graduate in Psychology, she attended night courses to get her degree and now she goes back to another year at teaching with this additional tool in her hand.

ARTS

SCHRIEBER, RIVA

Riva left Glebe Collegiate for sunny Israel to study for a year. Even from that distance Carleton brought her back and for the next three years she could be found in the Special Study Room with half the psychology books from the Library. Intends to marry soon and raise her children in accordance with the strict rules put down by course 320.

SKINNER, JEAN

Jean, a French major, would like to study the history of Art in France next year. Her numerous activities have included the Sock and Buskin Club, the Crimson Key Society, and the French Club.

SPARLING, CLARENCE

Mr. Sparling has been teaching for 25 years in Ottawa Public Schools. For the last five winters he has taken psychology at Carleton and after Psychology courses, 210, 305, 30, 330, 370, and 390 we are sure that the next generation of youngsters will be much improved.

STANTIAL, NANCY ANNE

This energetic History major, has been active in the Hleodor Society, the Bridge Club, the Canterbury Club, the Badminton Club and the U.R.T.P. She plans to attend Teachers' College this summer to prepare for a fall job in the field of education.

STEWART, DAVID RADMORE

A combined major in Philosophy and History, Dave intends to study theology in Montreal next year in preparation for the United Church ministry. In keeping with this aim, his outside interests have been concentrated in the Young Peoples' and Scouts' organizations.

THOMPSON, REID

Reid, coming to Carleton from Fisher High School, is our lone Philosophy graduate this year. Well known for his excellent baritone voice and his genial personality, he is active in the Carletones, and was on the choir executive last year.

TYNER, DORIS

Doris is a figure familiar to all Carleton students as she is the Registrar's Secretary. As an English and French major she revels in travelling to the distant exotic lands of Mexico and Europe.

URRY, ANNE

A Sociology major, Anne came to Carleton from Commerce after two years as a "working gal." Anne has also found time to do work for Hleodor and the Protestant Girls' Club. She has a yen to travel and see the world and probably will start with a trip out west in the company of other Carleton grads.

ARTS

VAN DER STOEL, WILLIAM

Originally from The Hague, Wim has presided over the French Club and participated in the Carletones. Before applying for the Foreign Service he will obtain a Public Administration degree at Carleton next year.

WILKINSON, GEORGE

George came to Carleton from Elmira, after two years at Ontario Agricultural School followed by some practical farming. In the past he has enjoyed singing in the Carletones. This Psychology major intends to study Theology in Naperville, Illinois.

WOLFF, CARL

Carl's main interest has been in musical activities at Carleton, having been a president of the Carletones and the accompanist for two Frosh Revues. A member of the German Language Club, W.U.S.C., and the Model Parliament, he has also found time to honour in History. After post-graduate studies, he hopes to teach at the university level.

WOOD, RONALD

A major in History, Ron is interested in clubs with an international or political flavour—the U.N. Club, W.U.S.C., and the Carleton Conservative Club. An expert photographer, he has also been a member of the Camera Club.

YOUNG, KENNETH

Lucky Ken is finally getting Glory—at graduation. An active member in the Geology Club and the YMCA, Ken hopes to go to Osgoode Hall for Law, after marriage. Claims "there should be an emancipation of southpaws. How about left-hand desks?" He is majoring in History.

SCIENCE

ALCOCK, RICHARD

Dick is a geology major who would like to do post-graduate work in the States—Yale University if possible. He has enjoyed participating in inter-faculty sports of all kinds.

HEATHER, ASHE

Heather's specialties are 8 a.m. field trips. From her operations in animal physiology she is known as "H'ashe." While at Carleton, Heather has been Social Convenor for the Science Club, and Vice-President and Secretary of the Hleodor Society.

BROWN, HELEN

"Our girl Helen" of the Chemistry Department has been a member of the Science Club, Canterbury Club, Hleodor Society, and the C.I.C. She may return to the Atomic Energy of Canada Ltd. at Chalk River where she has worked for the past summers.

CARTER, JOHN

A biologist, John believes in lulling his professors to sleep with his guitar playing before delivering his seminar. He plans to do post-graduate studies in biology after his marriage to Wilma. His hobbies include radio and photography.

SCIENCE

CRAWFORD, GERALD

Gerry, a Chemistry major, previously attended Carleton as a night student. Gerry is a member of the C.O.T.C. and at present is Secretary-Treasurer of the C.I.C. He has made numerous friends here at the University.

CRAWFORD, ROBERT

After ten years at Carleton Bob hopes to get the green light on graduation day. His interests include swimming, electronics, old cars, and two children. With his fine scholastic record in the evening division Bob will pursue a career in the government.

DELAUTE, JUDY

Judy is a "tsuga" biologist and a skier of note. She has been Secretary of the Science Club and a member of the Hleodor Society. Her extra-curricular activities this year have consisted mainly of trips to Kingston town.

MacINTOSH, AGNES

A MacIntosh from Apple Hill, Agnes naturally is a biologist. Even with her work at the Experimental Farm and night classes she found time to join the Science Club and the German Club. On the side she gleefully raises tropical fish.

McCONNELL, KENNETH

Another intrepid physicist, Ken's hobbies include the piano, photography, hunting, and collecting skulls. He has been a member of the Science Club. He would like to do research in geophysics and circle the globe simultaneously.

MOTT, ROBERT

Bob, a geology major, has been active in the Science Club, the Geology Club, and the Progressive Conservative Club. Besides all this, he is an avid photographer. After graduation Bob plans a career in geological work.

O'CONNOR, EDWARD

Ed, a Chemistry major, attended Ryerson before coming to Carleton. He has been a member of the Science Club and the C.I.C. Recently married, Ed plans a career as a patent chemist.

POLLARD, MAX

An ardent Hi-Fi fan, Max has spent the past three years in Carleton's physics labs. Interested in tennis, skiing, and swimming, he has occasionally taken short breaks for study. He would like a fast car with the etceteras before going into research.

SCIENCE

RELF, ALLAN

Al, formerly of the University of Toronto, is a Chemist major. He is an active member of the C.I.C. and presently is employed at the Quebec Metallurgical Industries here in the capital.

STEEVES, ANN

Ann is an ex Glebite who is well known at Carleton for her vivacity and humour. As a Geology major, she is a member of the Science Club, Hleodor Society, and Canterbury Club. In winter Ann heads to the hills for her favorite sport, skiing.

THURLOW, WILLIAM

Bill is claimed as a member of the Biology class. He has been, among other things, manager of the Ravens' football team and member of the Science Club. Bill, known far and wide as a result of his practical jokes, hopes to study medicine at Queens.

WRIGHT, DAVID

With a Geology major and a Chemistry minor, Dave is rarely seen outside the labs. A true scientist he hopes to attend Law School in the future. Outside of the University he is mainly interested in photography and hunting.

COMMERCE

"A COMMERCE NIGHTMARE"

BELLMAN, EDWARD

Ted wants to be a professional book juggler; he obviously doesn't mind starving for three years in a Chartered Accountant's office where he is now working part-time. While at Carleton, Ted was a member of the Commerce Club, The C.O.T.C., and the Conservative Club.

BRACKENBURY, KENNETH

One of the "west-end boys," Ken is aspiring to a degree in Business Administration at Western. He has contributed his muscles to the football team and his brains to the Commerce Club with equal alacrity. In the U.N.T.D., Ken has spent two summers in Europe and Bermuda.

CUNNINGHAM, CATHERINE

Miss Cunningham, a graduate of Macdonald College, received a B.A. degree from Carleton in 1953. While working as an accountant in the Post Office Department she has attended night classes to obtain her Commerce degree.

DAYTON, JERRY

Jerry, another member of the Commerce Club, is also a tennis enthusiast. He studied for two years in Europe and then a few years ago settled in Manitoba. After resuming his education at the University of Manitoba, he decided to come to Carleton for his final year.

COMMERCE

DOYLE, JOHN

John has followed the same devious route to the Capital as his friend, Jerry, has. After studying in Europe, and then at the University of Manitoba, he was claimed by Carleton. He has been treasurer of W.U.S.C. and a member of the Commerce Club.

FELDMAN, EVELYN

Queen of the faculty, Evelyn has contributed greatly to Carleton's life as a whole. She has presided over the Hleodor Society and W.U.S.C., as well as participating in the Carletones, Crimson Key Society, and Students' Council. Last summer she was our representative to the W.U.S.C. seminar in Ghana.

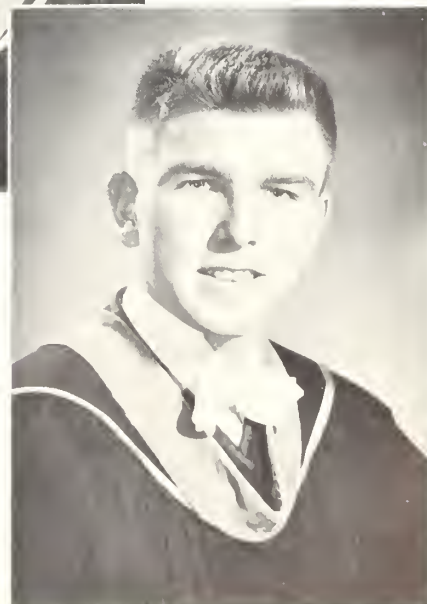

LEGATE, ROBERT

Bob lost his "bachelor personality" with no misgivings when he was married last September. He played in the band "years ago," and has been a valuable member of the Frosh Committee and the Commerce Club.

LEVERETTE, ROBERT

As a U.N.T.D. cadet, Bob is both at sea and in mid-air. This Fall he hopes to take Business Administration at Western. Bob, an ardent skier, has been a member of the Badminton Club and Secretary-Treasurer of the Commerce Club.

LOGAN, GORDON F.

"Abduhl," as Business Manager of the Carleton of 56-57, and member of the Debating Society, will probably revolutionize the business world. He has been Treasurer of Students' Council, Chairman of N.F.C.U.S., and President of the Commerce Club.

MacFARLANE, JOHN

One of the chief founders of the illustrious Investment Club, John is also active in the Commerce Club and inter-faculty sports. If plans materialize, he will go on to take a C.P.A. course and work in industry.

MacFARLANE, LORNE

Lorne, an extremely active chap with dominant views, has been Secretary-Treasurer of the Commerce Club, Treasurer of the Sock and Buskin, and member of N.F.C.U.S., W.U.S.C., and the Frosh Committee. A noted achievement is his honorary Hleodor membership.

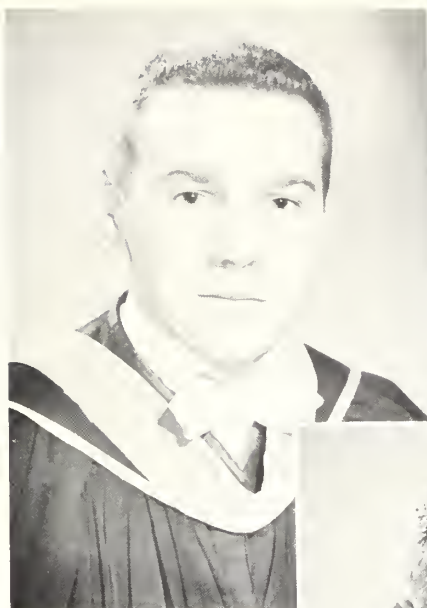

MICKENBERG, NORMAN

Norman is a rather quiet lad but shows an invincible spirit during lectures and discussions. His interests include basketball, dancing, and, of course, obtaining an education. He is planning a career in the cruel business world.

COMMERCE

MUSTARD, JOHN

"Mus," a talented student of various fields, is another one of the "west-end boys" who plans to attend Western for the Business Administration course. Although busy he manages to devote some attention to the Commerce Club.

RADNOFF, KENNETH

"Bridge anyone?" is a familiar cry from Ken. The Chess Club and the Commerce Club, important though they may be, must take second place. Next year he hopes to be doing his bidding at Osgoode Hall with other Carleton graduates.

ROCHESTER, GAIL

An expatriot of Montreal, Gail transferred from McGill to Carleton. Gail is also well known outside the Commerce faculty for she has won several championships in golf. Her other activities include the Commerce Club.

SHINDER, BERNARD

This* foremost composer of two Frosh Reviews wants to enter law. Among his many activities, Bernie is a member of the Crimson Key Society, President of the C.A.B., and Chairman of the last two successful Winter Weekends.

SNYDER, JERRY

The Bureau of Statistics has captured this Economics major in the daytime—and a gal in Montreal has captured him permanently. Jerry is the treasurer of Hillel—a Jewish organization of university students. After graduation, he would like to do further work in Math.. He reads "everything from philosophy to science fiction—preferably the latter"!

SPIRO, LLOYD

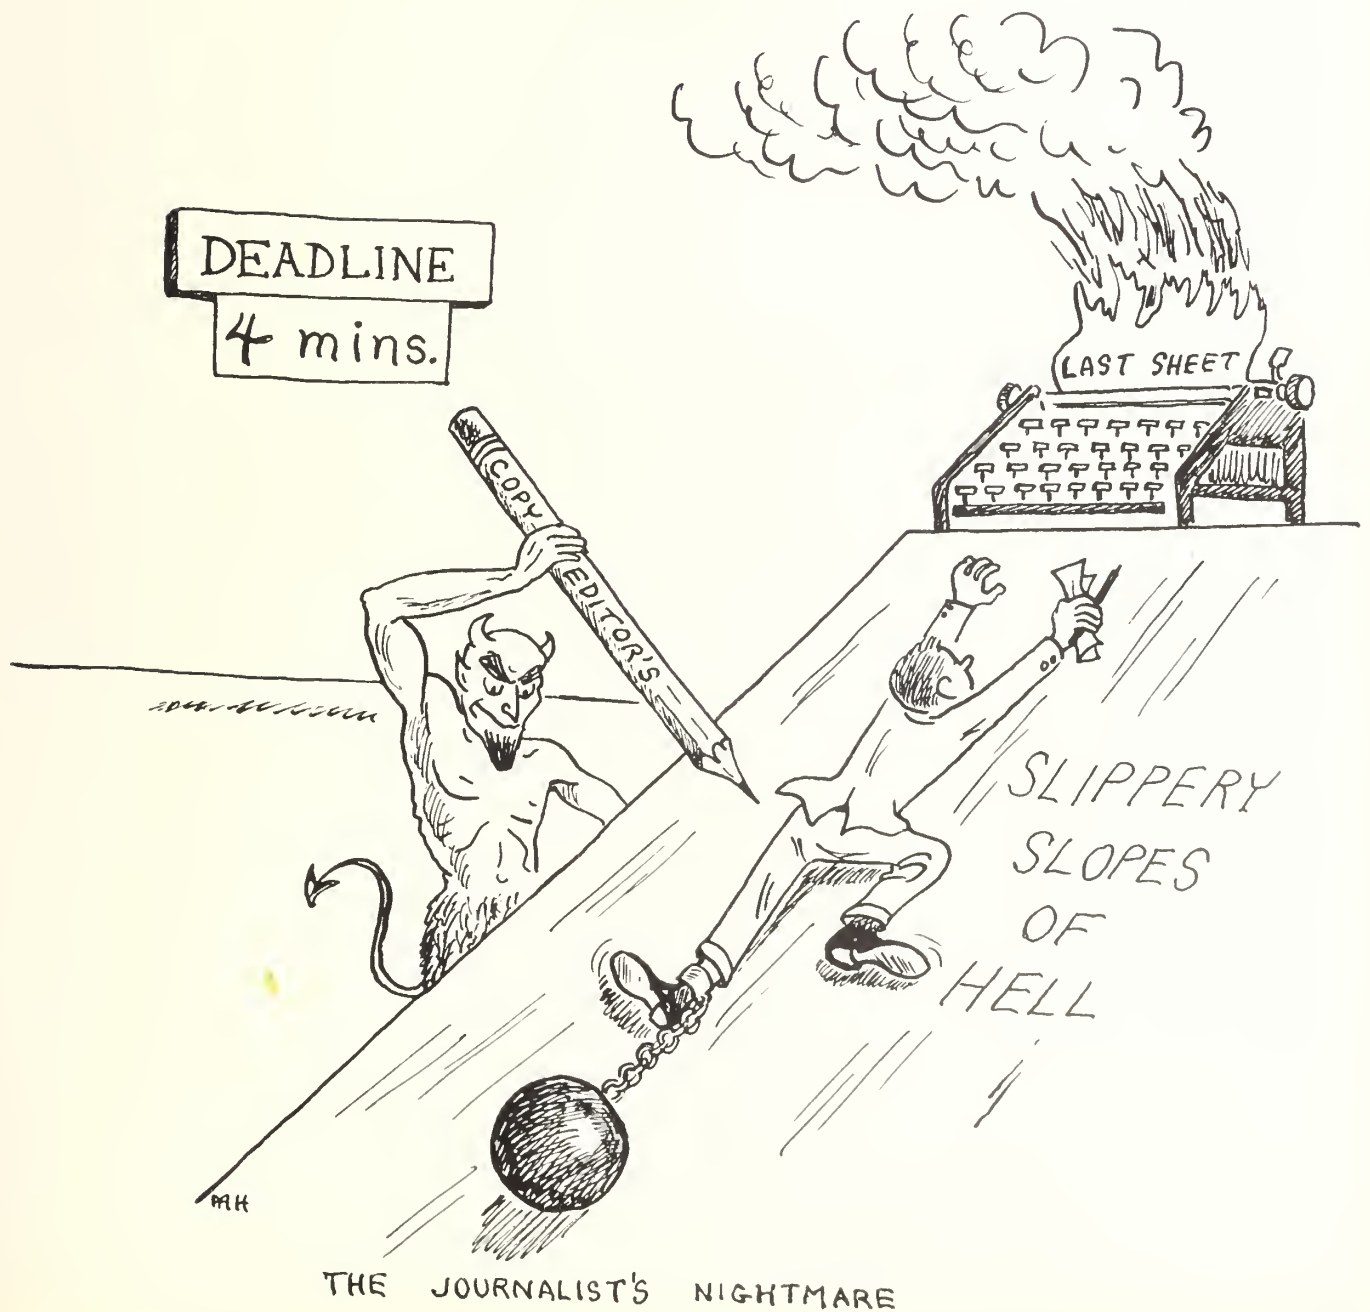

Lloyd, usually completely immersed in bridge games, enjoys playing basketball and attending Commerce Club meetings. He is aspiring to a career in law but is undecided when he will take the course.

TIGHE, JAMES

Jim has shown his athletic prowess in Junior City Hockey. While at Carleton, he has been a valued member of the Raven football team. In his spare time he indulges in such things as classes and the Commerce Club.

JOURNALISM

THE JOURNALIST'S NIGHTMARE

CAMPBELL, MARION

B.A., University of Manitoba, 1956. Upon graduation, Marion decided to teach school. After one year she was convinced anything was better so she came to Carleton. Newspaper work beckons to this staunch pillar of our faculty's bowling league.

GOODMAN, GEORGE MORTON

B.A., University of Manitoba, 1957. Baseball, books, music, theatre, a certain girl in Arts, commuting to Toronto and Montreal on weekends, sleeping and boosting his home town of Winnipeg occupy his waking hours. George wants to enter Public Relations.

GREW, SUZANNE

Busy Sue hardly finds time for class since it interferes with her duties in the Sock and Buskin (president), Inter-Varsity Christian Fellowship (secretary), and the Carleton (associate editor). Radio or TV work beckon, but dramatic arts may claim her.

HAMPTON, DAVID THOMAS

Tall, rugged, studious-looking Dave, who has worked throughout Canada and travelled abroad, categorizes his hobbies as follows: outdoors — motorcycling, sailing and mountain-climbing; indoors — drinking and sleeping. Public Relations should gain a valuable asset next year in Dave.

JOURNALISM

HAYES, MARLEEN JOYCE

B.A., University of Saskatchewan, 1957. Our defender of women's rights from Alberta created quite an impression on us when she announced that her immediate plans called for a world tour, but grudgingly admitted she would do Public Relations or TV work if the opportunity arose.

HEENAN, ROSEMARY

Raven editor, Literary Society vice-president, and an editor of the Halcvon, Rosemary plans scandal-writing in Montreal while hubby studies Engineering at McGill. Since she has her claim staked, we all join in wishing them the best of everything.

HOGBEN, WILLIAM MURRAY

B.A., Carleton University, 1957. Cartoonist deluxe, ardent weapon collector and student of lost causes, Murray chose journalism since he knew absolutely nothing about it (logical!). He can't decide between Creative Journalism (wha' dat?) and the Better Life?—Public Relations.

KITTREDGE, LILLIAN

Features editor of the Carleton and our chief statistician, Lillian numbers swimming, skating and carpentry amongst her spare time hobbies. Kit plans reporting upon graduation, perhaps branching into free-lance writing shortly after.

LANGLEY, CATHERINE

Cathy leads a busy life (when she comes to school)—Crimson Key chairman, Student Council Pubs chairman, Carleton's advisory editor and the first girl copy-boy in the history of the Journal. Future plans? "Newspaper work," she growled. She's learning fast!

LAWS, ROBIN

Our Students' Council Public Relations officer performed her two-week Citizen stint with the proper reportorial emotions: defiance, suspicion, fear. She's a member in good standing of every campus club as well as some that haven't been formed yet.

WARNER, LYNNE

B.A., University of Saskatchewan, 1957. Upon graduation Lynne came East, promptly got elected captain in our bowling league and immediately denounced the West. Her hobbies: swimming, bowling, knitting, crocheting, and staying home nights (ask the boys!). Future plans; Non-existent (so she says!).

Students'

Council

In order to provide an instrument of student government, to promote extra-curricular activities among the student body, to direct all activities and publications of the members of the student body, and to provide a recognized channel of communication between the University authorities and the student body, an association shall be formed which shall be known as The Student's Association of Carleton University.

MEMBERS: Jo Leikin (President), Robin Laws (Vice-President—Public Relations), George Henries (Secretary), John Haydon (Club's Chairman), Wayne Moss (Social Convenor), Gord Logan (Treasurer), Cathy Langley (Publications Chairman), Bob Field (Student Relations).

Arts Undergraduate Society

The Arts Undergraduate Society, which represents the interests of Artsmen, this year had a membership of almost two hundred. Several activities were organized which benefited students of the entire university. One was the arranging of a 10 per cent discount for students at seven Ottawa stores.

This year Arts crests were made available to members for the first time. The annual publication of the A.U.S., the Arts Desire, publicized the Arts Masquerade Ball held on October 26. One of the highlights of the Winter Weekend was a very successful Arts Sleigh Ride, and the Arts Float tied for second place in the Float Parade.

Commerce Club

The Commerce Club aims to bring the members of the Commerce faculty together outside of daily lectures by organizing extra curricular activities in which they may all participate.

Membership rose this year from 35 to 44. The first project — the second hand book store, was once again a success and proved to be a great service to Carleton students. Other Club activities included a tour of Computing Devices, faculty parties, and the winning of the Winter Weekend float prize for the second consecutive year. The Commerce Investment Club which was originally organized through the Commerce Club became independent this year.

EXECUTIVE: Lorne Macfarlane (Secretary-Treasurer), Bob Legate (Vice-President), Jim Lynn (President).

engineering society

The Engineering Society is one of the most unique organizations on campus. It is the only faculty club with 100% membership. The society, which became a chartered organization of Carleton in 1950, was formed to promote better relations among its members and with the students of other faculties. During the year, in addition to many meetings, the Society has sponsored two lectures given by the President and local Secretary of the Engineering Institute of Canada. It has held three stags and a Christmas party, all of which were generously attended by Carleton professors. The annual Screwball Dance was a highlight of the year and marked the end of Engineers' Weeks. At the end of the year this organization sponsored a banquet for engineers, their professors, and the graduates who were presented with steins.

EXECUTIVE

EXECUTIVE

Ralph Parliament (Sports Convenor), Bob Hopwood (Treasurer), Jim MacLean, Heather Ashe (Social Convenors), Peter Rand (President), Eric Mills (Vice-President), Judy Delaute (Secretary).

The Science Club was formed to provide interesting activities for all Carleton students with a scientific bent. With this in mind, the program this year has consisted of illustrated talks by members, several general meetings and a very successful trip to the atomic energy plant at Chalk River. In addition, the annual Science Dance was held in November.

However, the Club's aim to provide a stimulating programme for members has not been entirely fulfilled as demonstrated by the limited attendance at the activities planned. The executive feels that this is due to the Club's attempt to minister to too wide a field of interests, and recommends the formation of more specialized groups such as the Geology Club and the newly-organized Math and Physics Seminars. Formation of Biology and Chemistry Clubs might complete the roster of such organizations, and in the event that such clubs are formed, the Science Club should continue to exist as a central council to coordinate activities and organize joint programmes such as the annual dance and outside trips.

journalism club

The Journalism Club of Carleton University is an organization designed to promote spirit and good will among the members of the Journalism Faculty. This year the club was expanded, allowing all those who worked on the Carleton to become members, regardless of their faculty. The club had approximately 40 members this year.

The Journalism Bowling League which began last year was continued. As The Raven goes to press, Gord Pape's team leads the league with about 1,000 points. The league hopes to purchase a trophy this year.

Successful parties were held as the club carried out the new policy of having one party a month. All in all, the Journalism Club had a successful year.

geology club

Geology is essentially a practical science and as geology students are limited to only a few summers' experience in their field, the Geology Club was formed to provide the opportunity for these students to meet and benefit from the experience of established and recognized geologists. In furthering this end, an informative lecture series was sponsored by the club. Guest speakers with the desired experience, inquisitive audiences of geology-minded students, and informal discussions all contributed to most worthwhile meetings.

Doctors Neal, Eade, Boyle and others from the Geological Survey of Canada have spoken to the Club. In keeping with geological tradition, the more serious intent of the club was punctuated by a number of very successful parties.

EXECUTIVE: Dave Smith (President), Pat Costello (Social Convenor), Boudewyn Van Ort (Publicity). Absent: Les Kaye (Lecture Organizer).

debating union

The Carleton Debating Union is an organization for the purpose of encouraging student interest in debating and for training public speakers.

During the first term, there were a series of exhibition noon hour debates, and the Carleton Trophy Debate, won by Roman March and Alistair Todd with an award for Master Debater to Gordon Logan. One Inter-University debate was held against Queen's; Carleton was defeated.

The new reorganized Union's main program is one of training students who have never before spoken in public. Two lectures on "Debating Technique" were given by Roman March and a second series of noon hour debates is proposed. There are also plans for a large scale debate with persons outside the university participating and a student-faculty debate.

EXECUTIVE

Alison Day (Secretary), Roman March, Patrick Dunn, Bob Douglas, Ivan Timonin (President).

french club

The objective of the French Club is to foster an interest in the use of the French language and an appreciation of French culture.

A program featuring two French films and a talk by Dr. R. E. V. Bismuth opened the new season. The second meeting featured a panel discussion of weaknesses of the censorship system in Quebec and Ontario. Participants included Austin Cross (Citizen), Mac Lipson (CKOY), Pierre Tabarley (CBOFT), Bernard Légaré (Le Droit), and Dr. Bismuth. A highlight this season was a French-Canadian musical night at which members of Les Jeunesses Musicales together with the popular Hayden Sisters provided a lively evening's entertainment.

BACK ROW: Jeff Stevens, Reid Thompson, Dr. Frederick Karam, Frank Chandler, Bill Stuart.

Our aim is to recruit more tenors.

The 1957-1958 year, for the Carletones, has been filled with activity. Under the excellent direction of Dr. Frederick Karam, we made our first public appearance singing the National Anthem on the occasion of the corner-stone laying of our Science building. The next morning we stood in the fog singing "Will Ye No' Come Back Again?" as Queen Elizabeth and Prince Philip drove past the new university campus at the end of their Canadian visit. This was televised across the country, and we received fan mail from as far away as Nova Scotia!

The now traditional Carol Program for the university under the auspices of our honorary member, Dr. J. A. Gibson, was a big success, and a large crowd of students and professors enjoyed it with us. On Christmas Eve we caroled at the Protestant Children's Village, the Ottawa Sanatorium, the Bronson Memorial Home, and the Home for the Blind, John Ambrose directing. Dr. and Mrs. Gibson opened their home to us afterward, and this was a warm conclusion to a happy evening.

Winter Weekend saw numerous Carletones don angel trappings and sing their way into tie for second place in the Float Parade contest. On January 16, the Carletones performed at the opening meeting of the Canadian Conference on Education at the Chateau Laurier. The culmination of many awkwardly-timed practice hours was the Annual Concert, this year held at Fisher Park High School on March 25. Next year we are looking forward to holding the program in the auditorium of our new building!

crimson key society

The Crimson Key Society is a service club working in cooperation with the Department of Athletics. Members serve as ushers and officials at Carleton athletic events. They also assist at various activities and functions within the university.

This year club members have worked at football and basketball games, at presentations by the Sock and Buskin Drama Club and the Carletones, and at the ceremony for the laying of the corner-stone of the new Science building. The club was also responsible for organizing the billeting of visiting teams for the Invitational Basketball Tournament. At the Christmas Dance ten new members were presented with membership pins.

hleodor society

The Hleodor Society, a strictly girls' organization tries to promote a sense of unity and friendship among the female student body. This is especially true at the first of the year when a Frosh Tea is held in honour of the Frosh and the new and old members have a chance to meet.

In addition to the various teas, the Hleodor Society sponsored a luncheon at which Elaine Dawson was guest speaker. The traditional Sadie Hawkins and Winter Weekend dances were also held. Hleodor girls have helped outside groups such as the Red Cross and the Humane Society. This Christmas the club not only presented gifts to the children at the Protestant Children's Village and St. Joseph's Orphanage, but also helped a destitute family.

Each year a third year girl is awarded the Jean Mac-Odrum scholarship donated to the Hleodor Society to be awarded at the last luncheon in March.

EXECUTIVE

June Hebditch (Secretary-Treasurer), Heather Ashe (Publicity), Elaine Joynt (Sports Convenor). SEATED: Evelyn Feldman (President). ABSENT: Joan Fagan (Social Convenor).

literary society

The Literary Society was organized five years ago to encourage all those people who had a flare for writing and an active appreciation of literature. Meetings, therefore, are devoted, not only to the reading of original works by the members, but also to the examination of contemporary writing.

This year the Literary Society was fortunate in having both Professor A. D. Hope from Canberra University College, Australia and Professor A. E. Birney from U.B.C.; each gave a reading of their own poetry. At the end of January, the club undertook to sponsor a reading by Mr. Irving Layton, Montreal poet and prose writer, at a meeting held in the Auditorium to which the Ottawa public was invited. His visit proved to be an overwhelming success and this year's executive hopes to have set a precedent for the Club to follow in the years to come.

This year, as in previous years, the club published the Halcyon, a magazine containing a collection of student writings, under the excellent direction of editor Pat Kendall.

BACK ROW: Janet Kask (Social Convenor), Keith Andrew (Publicity), Pat Kendall (Editor of Halcyon). FRONT ROW: Rosemary Heenan (Vice-President), Carol Cumming (President), Clare Henderson (Secretary-Treasurer).

W.U.S.C.

The World University Service of Carleton is a member of an international university organization which works to promote better understanding between university students and professors of all countries.

In the fall Carleton saw "African Night" when out-of-town guests and Evelyn Feldman described the seminar held in Africa last summer. The annual Treasure Van, held later, received an excellent Carleton response. In February a faculty-student reception initiated the week-long W.U.S. Share Campaign. There were also two conferences, one at Fredricton and another at Sharbot Lake, which local delegates attended. This year three Carleton professors, Professor Wood, Professor Johnson and Professor McDougall were faculty members of W.U.S.C.

EXECUTIVE: Alia Rauf (Vice-Chairman), Janet Kask, Enid McNeil (Publicity), John Doyle (Treasurer), Sandra Kindie (Secretary), Evelyn Feldman (Chairman).

The chief function of the N.F.C. U.S. Committee at Carleton is to support and assist the National Federation of Canadian University students in its aims and projects, and to represent Carleton at conferences and congresses held by the Federation.

The activities of the Federation have been directed towards assisting the National Office of the Federation which is located in Ottawa. In the Fall two members of the Committee were part of the group which presented a brief on Unemployment Insurance to the Minister of Labour. The Committee has also run the N.F.C.U.S. Photography, Art and Short Story Contests and has assisted in the N.F.C.U.S. Life Insurance Plan.

MEMBERS: George Seaby, Alison Day, Lorne MacFarlane, Josephine Leikin, Gordon Logan (Chairman).

sock and buskin

Named after footwear used to depict comedy and tragedy in the ancient Greek theatre, the Sock and Buskin Drama Club of Carleton University is composed of students who are anxious to learn "theatre" in every sense of the word, whether it be in the acting or directing lines, or in production and backstage work.

This year the club has undertaken two theatrical programs, a major production in November and three one-act plays in February. The first undertaking "Ar-senic and Old Lace" was directed by Bill Glenn of the Ottawa Little Theatre and two of the one act plays produced in the spring were festival material. "The Blue Concerto," directed by Richard Stevens, entered the Inter-Varsity Drama Festival, and A.A. Milne's "A Boy Comes Home", directed by Ivan Timonin went to the Eastern Ontario Regional Drama Festival at Smith's Falls for adjudication.

united nations club

The U.N. Club was originated for the purpose of providing a medium for discussion of international affairs. It attracts many students from other countries and gives them a chance to share ideas and make friends.

Among the varied activities the most popular are the Embassy visits. This year the club visited the Turkish Embassy and a very informative evening was spent by all. The club plans to send a delegation to a mock Security Council this year as in other years. The large proportions of non-Canadian students lend a realism and are a credit to any conference of this sort. Another highlight is the University Club Night held yearly for the members by Dr. McLeish, one of the originators of the U.N. Club and our faculty representative.

EXECUTIVE: Ted MacDougall (President), Brian Marshall (Vice-President), Louise Pepper (Secretary-Treasurer).

The fundamental aims of a political club are to create fresh thoughts on basic problems and to give the student an opportunity to study the political ideology of the various parties.

The Liberal Club has the opportunity to participate in the fourth National Liberal Convention this year. Three voting delegates and three alternates represented Carleton at this Convention. Carleton was also represented on the resolutions committee of the National Convention where students worked with senior Liberal party members. Carleton Liberals attended the annual C.U.L.F. conference to choose a new executive and to discuss resolutions to be presented by C.U.L.F. to the National Convention.

EXECUTIVE: Ed Monaghan (Treasurer), Pinchas Pleet, Doug Boylan (Party Whip), Charlie Bow (President), Alison Day.

EXECUTIVE: Robert Mott (Secretary - Treasurer), Gordon Sorley (President), Don Bennett (Party Whip), Ronald Fraser.

progressive conservative club

The Carleton Progressive Conservative Club functions for the purpose of stimulating political interest on the Campus. The Club attempts to originate and influence as well as promote P.C. policy.

A new executive was elected early in October. Following this a five man delegation attended an Ontario Young Progressive Convention in Toronto. James McGrath spoke to the Club gathering at a noon meeting in November.

The Club was committed to a very active role in the Progressive Conservative Student Federation Convention in Ottawa, February 1. Members then planned a spirited campaign in the Model Parliament elections, victory being their goal.

canterbury club

EXECUTIVE

Ken Bowe (Treasurer), Lloyd Rheame (President), Bill Elderkin (Secretary). SEATED: Jean Skinner (Vice-President).

The Canterbury Club represents the Anglican Church on the campus, although people of other faiths are welcome to attend meetings. The Club's programme this year has included speeches and discussions as well as corporate communions. Among the speakers were the Right Reverend Ernest S. Reed, Lord Bishop of Ottawa, and Michael Barkway, Ottawa editor of the Financial Post.

Interesting activities of the season were our contribution to the float parade and our closing dinner.

The Ottawa Canterbury Club sent several delegates to the Eastern Canada Canterbury Club Conference at the University of New Brunswick.

inter-varsity christian fellowship

After President Ron suggested that IVCF members each sell a pint of blood to pay expenses to the Illinois Conference, Students' Council saved the day and paved the way. The club shifted quarters to the attractive chapel at St. James' Church for bible study. Among the speakers which sparked lively discussion were Rev. Ian Burnett of St. Andrew's, Rev. John Lake of St. Johns' and Dr. James Thompson, moderator of the United Church.

The Vicar of Wakefield, Rev. Henry Blase and Rev. Bill Lamb of Kazabazua led both the sing-song and discussion, which was as vigorous as the preceding hike in the wilds of Wakefield. Our whetted appetites were substantiated by a buffet supper at Rockhurst Lodge. Later in the season, a skating party at Smith's Falls was followed by supper and discussion Chez McCaw.

EXECUTIVE

Rosemary Heenan (Publicity), Don Pink, Ron McCaw (President), Suzanne Grew (Secretary).

newman club

The Newman Club is the very newest club on this campus. Oddly enough, Carleton is the last university in Canada to have one and the group hopes soon to be accepted by the Canadian Federation of Newman Clubs.

Carleton's Newman Club was founded in the belief that a student's life is truly meaningful only when motivated by clear Christian principles, and that at Carleton there should be an organization furthering the study of Roman Catholic thought on such matters. The Club's members were warmly applauded at the February regional meeting here of the C.F.N.C., and judging by their participation in it, they will be active and notable in future years.

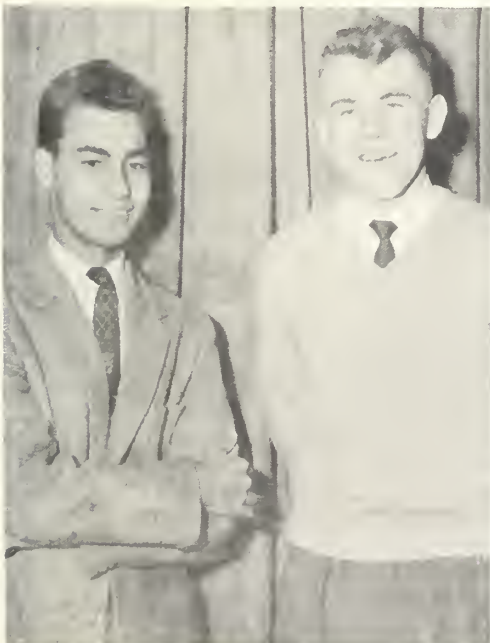

Regular meetings are held monthly after members have received Holy Communion together. Spontaneous ones occur whenever a need or occasion arises.

EXECUTIVE

Marlene Petzold (Secretary), Robert Delabio (Treasurer). SEATED: Eva Jarmicki (President). ABSENT: Kevin Donovan (Vice-President).

camera club

EXECUTIVE

Ken Bowe (President), Tom Seabrook (Secretary-Treasurer).

The purpose of the Camera Club is to bring together all students interested in photography and to encourage them to talk about their problems and new techniques.

Meetings are held every second Thursday in the Union. Photographic problems are discussed, printing and developing techniques are shown. Also, members show their slide collections.

The high point of the year for the Camera Club is the exhibition of salon prints at the end of February. This exhibition takes place in the library hallway and has attracted considerable attention in the past.

The club would like to take this opportunity to invite anyone interested in photography to attend its meetings.

bridge club

EXECUTIVE

Ken Radnoff (Secretary-Treasurer), Bernie Shinder (President).

The aims of the Bridge Club are: to promote the playing of the game at Carleton, to improve the calibre of bridge, to provide a meeting place for bridge players, and to hold tournaments for its members.

During this year, numerous bridge nights were held including a gala tournament. The Bridge Club sent two teams to the Inter-collegiate Bridge Tournament at McGill. The more experienced members have coached fledgling bridge players.

The club plans to enter teams in Ottawa Bridge Tournaments so that our place in bridge circles of Ottawa will be insured.

chess club

The aim of the club is to gather people together who are interested in the game of chess, and to provide beginners with an opportunity to learn to play the game.

The Carleton Chess Club has many supporters, but not too many members. A few new faces mingle with the old ones at the weekly sessions, and matches are often played during the week. A ladder tournament started at the beginning of the season has created much enthusiasm. The members' names are placed in any order on a ladder, and the players try to boost their standing by defeating the person ahead of them. During the second term, the club went social by having chess parties with chess as the main attraction, of course.

EXECUTIVE

Pinchas Pleet (chief cook), Ken Radnoff (bottle washer).

badminton club

Carleton's Badminton Club, after undergoing a good housecleaning this year, emerged as one of the better supported clubs of '57-'58. The club set out to form an intercollegiate team; to organize an inter-faculty tournament, to hold inter-club Round Robins and to help promote badminton in general around the university.

Every Saturday at Lisgar's Gym the majority of the club's thirty members turned out to bat the bird across the net.

Arrangements were made for an inter-faculty tournament and an inter-collegiate team was formed. An invitational tournament was planned for February 15th and an inter-club Round Robin was held later in the school year. It is hoped that a club party will be organized to make one of Carleton's most successful years for badminton complete.

on the field

The 1957 Football schedule was perhaps the most ambitious one that the Ravens have ever undertaken. Playing in the newly formed Ontario Intercollegiate League, Carleton matched itself against such football powerhouses as MacMaster, OAC, RMC, and others.

The Ravens finished fifth in the six team circuit with only one win in seven starts. But Carleton's 1957 football season could hardly be termed a success if the sole criterion used in judging the team was that of games won and lost.

The Ravens had something this season which has been too often missing in the past—a great team spirit. The team may not have finished the season covered with glory, but it finished with the knowledge that the players had given everything they had and had done their best. We can ask no more.

Many individual stars distinguished themselves at the games. Halfback Tom Mann led the Carleton team in scoring and was third highest scorer in the League. End Jim Lynn turned in fine games all season, standing out on defense. Linemen Lloyd Reaume and Gerry Patterson held the Raven front wall together.

These players will all be returning next season and with a good crop of rookies they could form the nucleus of a winning squad.

This year's edition of the Ravens took on one of the toughest basketball schedules that a Carleton team has ever faced. Playing a total of twenty-three games in two leagues, the Ravens finished with a better than .500 average.

The 1957-58 season marked Carleton's return to Senior City play after a year's absence and the Ravens acquitted themselves well in senior company. After being in the thick of the battle for first place all season, Carleton ran out of gas in the final two games and were forced to settle for third place with a record of four wins and five defeats. Carleton proved once again it is a power in Ottawa basketball, however, and the Ravens' games provided the fans with a colorful, high scoring brand of ball.

In Ottawa-St. Lawrence Conference play, the Ravens, playing in the Western Division, came up with a good won-lost record. As last year's champions they were considered the team to beat in the Intercollegiate league and came up with some sparkling ball to win the majority of their games.

Coach Norm Fenn indicated he was well satisfied with the performance of this year's squad. For the first time there was some continuity in Carleton basketball teams, with five men returning from the championship squad of the year before. With only one man graduating this spring, guard Jim Fennessy, the outlook for next season on the basketball front again seems bright.

Sparkplugging the team this year were veteran guards George House, Ernie Zoppa, and Fennessy, along with forwards Bob Laughton and Doug Hunter along with newcomers Jim Prebble and John Kirkconnell. Reserve power was provided by Dan McKinnon, Pete Giroux, and Jim Thompson.

Co-captains of this year's team were Bob Laughton and Ernie Zoppa, elected by the players at the start of the season. John Brannen managed the team until mid-season when the position was taken over by Dan O'Connor.

BACK ROW, left to right: Pat Seymour, Eve Smith, Mavis McArthur (Coach), Helen Millett, Fran Arbuthnot. FRONT ROW: Joan Stevenson, Jean Eastop, Barb Bailey (Capt.), Pam Medcalfe, Bev Robinson.

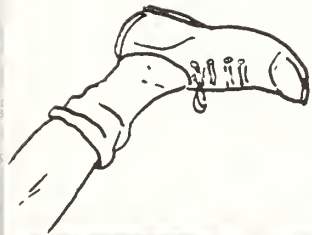

The Robins, Carleton's girl basketballers, with only one loss behind them, look like fair game to retain the Senior City League laurels they captured last year.

The one loss was handed them by a powerful Y.W.C.A. team, league leaders thus far. With five games yet to play in the League schedule, the Red, White and Black are holding down second spot.

Entered also in the Stewart Intercollegiate League, Carleton plays host to McMaster, McDonald and O.A.C. in their annual championship contest. The Robins failed to make their mark in this league last year, but prospects are good for a better showing this season.

Fran Arbuthnot, high scorer in the Senior League in the 56-57 season is again on the road to scoring honours.

The team, coached by Mavis McArthur, includes veterans Fran Arbuthnot, Bev Robinson, Pam Medcalfe, Barb Bailey, and newcomers Jean Eastop, Joan Stevenson, Helen Millett, Pat Seymour, and Eve Smith.
